FATAL PRIZE FIGHT.

Andy Bowen Killed by George Lavigne in a Mill.

Fight Was in the Auditorium at New Orleans.

COULDN'T HELP HIM.

Doctors Worked Over Him but Couldn't Revive Him.

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 15.—Andy Bowen who was defeated in the arena of the auditorium last night by "Kid" Lavigne, of Baginaw, Mich., died at 7:15 this morning from the effects of the punishment received.

The scene at the house this morning was a most pathetic one. Dr. Ed Martin was called in early and did all that human skill could do to save the life that had hung in the balance, but to no avail. The mother of the pugilist when he was carried into the house predicted that he would never recover, while his young wife grew hysterical in her agony. They were beside the unconscious man and wept at his side. The unconscious man and wept at his side. The unconscious man and wept at his side.

The pugilist fought last night in the presence of about 1,400 people. The purse was for $3,000 divided, $2,500 to the winner and $500 to the loser. John Duffy acted as referee. Both men were over weight. Bowen scaling 133 and Lavigne 135. The weight agreed on was 130. With the exception of the first round, Lavigne had the best of the fight clear through. Bowen was knocked out in the eighteenth round.

Bowen was carried limp and senseless from the ring by his seconds to his home, where Dr. H. H. Shupert and Barnum waited to bring him to consciousness. Dr. H. H. Shupert, who has had much practice in conditions on boxing matches, said Bowen was evidently suffering from concussion of the brain. At 1 o'clock this morning Bowen's condition had not improved and it was feared he would die. Lavigne has been detained by the police.

A SMOOTH STRANGER.

He Successfully Swindles Three St. Joseph Banks of Considerable Money.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Dec. 15.—Three local banks, the German-American, the Central Savings and the State National, have been worked by a smooth stranger. At the State National he deposited a considerable sum of money last week under the name of A. S. Denton. At the German-American he deposited in the name of E. G. Coulter and at the Central Savings in the name of C. H. Davis. This gave him an acquaintance which proved more valuable to him than to the banks.

He said he was in the commission business and gave each of the banks numerous drafts for collection, all of which were honored. In due time he reduced his deposits, getting ready for the grand coup. Yesterday he entered each of the banks with drafts for collection, and did something which he had never done before. He asked for an advance on paper. In each instance he got it. How much is not known, for each of the three banks declare it was not phased but the other two were. All the same, the three have combined in a chase for the commission man, who is known to have left town on the train bound for Omaha at 1 o'clock.

Christian Endeavor societies multiply everywhere. So do the consumers of Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder.

THE YELLOW EAGLES.

The Gold Reserve is Being Depleted at a Very Rapid Rate.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—The gold reserve yesterday took another downward plunge by the withdrawal of $4,375,000, leaving the net reserve at the close of business, $90,341,434, or $1,438,113 below the $91,779,547 limit. Of this amount withdrawn, $4,375,000 went from the sub-treasury at New York and $335,000 from Boston.

Assistant Secretary Curtis, in speaking of the matter, thought the heavy demand for gold during the week was for dividends and other payments falling due on January 1 of each year. During the first two weeks of each December sterling exchange always advanced, and very often to the shipping point, as is the case at present. After this week Mr. Curtis thought the expectation of gold would materially decrease, if it did not cease altogether. Of course, it was a matter of regret that our monetary system was such as to permit these heavy withdrawals against our will. Until congress took the matter in hand nothing could be done except to hand out the gold whenever demanded.

Iowa Pays for Kelly Troubles.

DES MOINES, Iowa, Dec. 15.—The supreme court this morning decided the appeal case of Adjutant General Prime against Auditor of State McCarthy, in favor of the former, affirming the district court's holding that $4,112.11 expenses incurred by eight companies of military during the Kelly invasion should be paid under section 120 of the code. The contention of the auditor was that the claim was chargeable to Potawatomi county and not payable under this section.

FRAKER CASE SENSATION.

His Sex and Double Greatly Thickens the Mystery of His Life.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Dec. 15.—There were two remarkable incidents in connection with the Fraker case yesterday. One was the arrest on suspicion of Will Stickle, alias R. E. Kohl, a witness for the insurance companies whom they were unable to find, which reason they gave as a grounds for a continuance, and the discovery that he had been in the city for eight days, stopping at the Midland hotel with the attorneys for the insurance companies. The other was the positive statements of Mrs. Alex Russell of Oklahoma, and Dr. Harry H. Sullivan, that the Rev. Charles S. Mason of College Springs, Iowa, is the missing Dr. George W. Fraker. The statements were made after being allowed an opportunity of seeing the gentleman and studying his features carefully.

Another sensation was the testimony of Dr. King of Excelsior Springs. He said that Fraker was neither man nor woman, but a freak of nature. This was backed by the testimony of Dr. Sullivan of Excelsior Springs.

So far both sides have introduced positive testimony in regard to the sex of the man. The latter introduced testimony showing that Dr. Fraker's income was large enough to maintain the life insurance policies, amounting to $38,000, taken out shortly before his disappearance.

The defense, on the other hand, has many witnesses who testify that Fraker's income was small. The average amount was about $1,500. This would not maintain $38,000 in life insurance, and the defense attempts to create the feeling that the policies were taken out with the intent to defraud the insurance companies.

CROKER WILL NOT APPEAR

The Tammany Boss Declines to Go Before the Lexow Committee.

NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—Richard Croker was asked if he would accept Mr. Goff's invitation to appear before the Lexow committee and vindicate himself of the constructive charge of extortion implied by the testimony of Witness Moren yesterday.

"I did not know that any charges had been made against me," said Mr. Croker, "or that there is anything to vindicate."

The only thing Mr. Moren testified was that he contributed to Tammany hall. If the committee wants to find out about contributions to political parties, Mr. Croker is sure they can. Why don't they ask the Union League club, the Republican and Democratic organizations about political contributions? These organizations get them as well as Tammany hall. Let the committee look into contributions made to all political parties and make its inquiry partisan, as they are doing."

"But you will take advantage of Mr. Goff's offer?" he was asked.

"No, there's nothing to vindicate that I know of. Mr. Moren wanted to contribute to Tammany hall, and he did so; that is all there is about it."

"Did you know anything about Captain Creedon paying $15,000 for a conspiracy?"

Mr. Croker laughed as if the idea amused him.

"No," said he, "I did not."

KU-KLUX IN GEORGIA.

Sensational Statement Made at a Trial of White Cappers.

ATLANTA, Ga., Dec. 15.—In the trial of the White Cappers from Whitfield county in the United States court yesterday a sensation was created by witnesses testifying that a far reaching Ku-Klux organization does exist in that section and that Paul Trammell, United States internal revenue collector and Trammell Starr, state senator and kinsman of his, are members of it.

"Why it's well known," said Mr. Trammell, "that both Starr and myself have been very active in trying to suppress lawlessness in that part of the state. The charge is ridiculous, and there is not one word of truth in it."

MORE REMEDIES.

Currency Committee Still Considers Money Question.

Mr. Warner Says Carlisle's Scheme is Not Elastic.

MANY MEN ARE HEARD

Democrats Agree to Report the Carlisle Bill.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—Ex-Representative Warner of Ohio, president of the Bimetallist league, addressed the house banking and currency committee yesterday on the currency question. He urged that an elastic currency, such as Secretary Carlisle suggests, was an impossibility, and that prices rose as fast as currency increased. Mr. Warner said the history of the world proved that the gold standard could not be maintained by giving to the banks the power of expanding the currency. He was amazed that this proposition should be made in this enlightened age, in the face of the financial experiences of the world.

Enoch Platt, president of the Baltimore clearing house, was next heard. He said with regard to the Baltimore plan that it embodied his views. Speaking of the fifth section of the Carlisle bill, providing for a guarantee fund, he said it would be safe if the strong banks could be got into it, which he considered doubtful.

Among the letters and telegrams read by the chairman was a telegram from John R. Walsh, president of the Chicago national bank saying that it had been impossible for him to leave Chicago this week, but inviting attention to the letter he had written to Comptroller Eccles. The letter to Mr. Walsh was also read. In this Mr. Walsh states his objection to the Baltimore plan. They were that it does not provide adequate security for the notes; second, because it throws on the treasury of the United States the burden of redeeming the notes of failed banks; third, because the people would never receive the notes of any bank not properly secured.

He added that the Baltimore plan is nothing but a revival of the old New York state safety fund plan, a system which was abandoned long before the organization of any national banks. In his opinion, the proper way to deal with the currency is for the government to issue an irredeemable 2 1/2 per cent bond, which could be made the basis of circulation for national banks, up to the amount of the capital.

A long discussion arose between General Warner and Mr. Sperry over a question by the latter as to the effect that an increase of the circulation would have upon the price of money. Mr. Sperry called attention to a statement by the treasury department showing that the circulation in 1873 had been $771,000,000, whereas in 1893 it was over $2,200,000,000, and asked him how he reconciled the facts with the decrease in money to be in demand. Mr. Sperry did not consider the reply as adequate and Mr. Warner, in challenging the treasurer's report of the gold in circulation at the present time which he said was $200,000,000 beyond the facts, and by referring to the increase of population and wealth. Mr. Sperry did not consider the reply as adequate and Mr. Warner, in challenging the treasurer's report of the gold in circulation at the present time which he said was $200,000,000 beyond the facts, and by referring to the increase of population and wealth.

The hearing was resumed in the afternoon with A. L. Ripley, vice president of the National Hide and Leather bank of Boston on the stand. He characterized the scheme of issuing demand notes redeemable in gold as thoroughly vicious.

Colonel Jackson of Jackson & Curtis, brokers, of Boston, followed Mr. Ripley. He urged a provision in any bill that might be supported by the secretary of the treasury, 1895, to cancel $4,000,000 worth of United States notes each month until the entire outstanding amount should be disposed of and to sell bonds if necessary to accomplish this result.

To pass the Carlisle bill without any adequate work, he thought it all short of restoring the confidence of the world.

Will Report the Carlisle Bill.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—The Democratic members of the banking and currency committee held an executive meeting immediately after the adjournment of the regular hearing, and after an hour's discussion decided to report the Carlisle bill without amendment.

It is understood that Representative Bland has given up all hope of getting his free coinage bill out of his committee, and has determined to offer his bill as an amendment to the Carlisle bill in the house. If it is decided not to be reformed, he will appeal from the decision, giving the house an opportunity to vote on the proposition.

Experimental Agricultural Stations. WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—Acting Secretary of the Interior Sims has approved a report of the commissioner of education favoring resolutions recently adopted by the association of American agricultural colleges and experiment stations. He thinks the appropriation by congress of $6,000 a year for the purpose, as recommended by the report, would prove of inestimable advantage to the cause of agricultural and mechanical schools.

Eighty-one Bills for Peffer. WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—Since Senator Peffer's record has become a matter of general interest, made so mainly by Senator Morrill's late speech, it may be of interest to state that so far the senator during this congress has introduced eighty-one bills, seventeen of which were reported by committees, two favorably and fifteen unfavorably and neither of the two favorably reported has passed.

DUN'S BUSINESS REVIEW.

Pay Rolls for November Show an Increase of Earnings of 15 Per Cent.

NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says:

Dun's review is enabled, by the kindness of several thousand manufacturers who have forwarded statements of their pay rolls of November, this year, in 1893 and in 1892, to make a very encouraging comparison of earnings for that month, which shows an increase in total payments of 15.2 per cent over last year, but a decrease of 13.5 per cent in comparison with 1892. A statement of hands employed shows that in the same establishments 10.2 per cent more persons were employed than a year ago, but 8.6 per cent less than 1892. The average of earnings for over 250,000 hands is 4 per cent larger than in 1893, but 13.5 per cent less than in 1892, and this statement takes no account of hours of work in the months compared, or of the establishments now working at all this year. In some of the industries more hands are at work than in 1892, but in others the decrease is large. Contradictory changes in business are quite in order at this season. Neither the larger orders in some branches nor the depression of prices in others afford a safe indication of the general movement. But the working force does not lessen more than usual for the time of a year and the demand for goods does not seem to diminish, though in some departments it is considerably below the capacity of works in operation and the volume of business transacted is a little larger in comparison with last year than in November.

The speculative markets have advanced a little, through reasons hard to find. Wheat is unchanged in price, although Western receipts are as large as they were last year and Atlantic exports are 831,205 bushels, against 1,029,000 a year ago. Corn is a fraction weaker without any important change in movement though the receipts continue remarkably large. The heavy receipts of cotton have broken down the price to $5.75 in spite of a strong speculative interest looking for some recovery from the lowest point on record.

Bank Clearings.

NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—The following table, compiled by Bradstreet's, shows the clearances at the cities named, and the percentage of increase or decrease as compared with the corresponding week last year:

Cities	Clearings	Inc.	Dec.
Kansas City	$9,790,750	11.2	11.2
Omaha	4,647,138	4.4	11.2
Denver	2,857,384	4.4	23.1
St. Joseph	1,273,144	4.4	23.1
Lincoln	6,543,498	12.0
Wichita	529,540	27.8

Killed in a Quarrel Over a Girl.

WICHITA, Kan., Dec. 15.—Carson Carver, a prominent resident of Kingman county, was shot and fatally wounded last night at Westport school house by Pearl Drury. The two men years ago fought over a girl and the trouble was renewed at a social being held at the school house and the fighting followed. Drury fled, but a sheriff's posse is in hot pursuit. The people of the neighborhood are aroused to such a pitch that they threaten a lynching bee if Drury is captured.

Pension Bill Passed.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—The time of the house was consumed yesterday with debate on the pension appropriation bill and although it abounded in charges and counter-charges, it lacked interesting details. The bill carries $141,381,570 and was passed without amendment. The bill resolution of inquiry calling on the secretary of state for the correspondence relating to the payment of $25,000 in the deficiency bill in connection with the fur seal controversy was adopted.

Expressive Sentences.

We give below a few gems culled from the works of Ponson du Terrail: "Her hand was cold like that of a serpent." "The countess was about to reply when a door opened and closed her mouth." "Ha, ha!" he exclaimed in Portuguese. "The colonel paced backward and forward, with his hands behind his back, reading the newspaper." "At this sight the negro's face grew dreadfully pale." "The man was dressed in a velvet jacket and in pants of the same color."—Figaro.

A Mighty Bad Fix.

They were sitting together in the parlor of a palatial Fifth avenue mansion. She was the beautiful daughter of a man who had made his fortune in a single week in Wall street. The young man who was watching her, and instantly was the of a man who had been on the other side of the market during the week which had been so sunny for her father. He was interested in her, "not because her face was fair" like that of the maiden in the song. He was fascinated with her on account of the money which her father possessed.

There was a grand piano standing in the corner of the parlor. "Aw, do you touch the keys with those tapering fingers?" he asked. A dreamy, faraway look came into her deep brown eyes as she looked up at him.

"Not now," she said, with a sigh of relief. "Before I managed to accumulate his fortune I was one of the most expert operators in New York, but now the very mention of a typewriter makes me ill."

Just then the clock in the hall struck the hour of 11, and he went out to get something to steady his aristocratic nerves. Then he went home and lay awake all night trying to decide whether it was true love or merely fascination that was troubling him.—New York Herald.

The Woman of the World. They were threading their way slowly among the gorgeously dressed dummies in the dry goods shop, stopping every now and then to admire or criticize and to inspect linings and price marks. Nothing had pleased their fastidious fancy very much until the girl in brown saw a black serge just in front of her.

"There, Marie!" she exclaimed in triumph. "That's what I want. See how that umbrella skirt hangs! See how that coat sets in the back! The frock makes even the lay figure distinguished. If it's silk lined and doesn't cost too much, I shall have it!"

She advanced and laid inquiring hands upon the frock, lifting the coat to inspect the lining. Then she fell back with a little cry. It was not a dummy, but another customer, who turned and faced her!—Chicago Tribune.

Betrayed Herself. In 1915: "You needn't tell me that Mary Purvis is not more than 28 years old. She is nearer 43, and I can prove it."

"But how?" "Just you watch her when she goes to cross a muddy street. Just notice how she grabs at her trousers to hold them out of the mud, the way women did 20 years ago, when they wore skirts."—Indianapolis Journal.

An Abused Girl. "Yes, I gave him up," sighed the young woman. "Did he prove unworthy of your affection?" inquired her sympathetic friend.

"He—he became a spelling reformer," rejoined the other, with a shudder, "and signed his name 'Jorg.' It took all the poetry and romance out of the name. So we parted."—London Globe.

MAN AND WIFE TARRED.

Visited by White Caps and Dragged Out in the Snow. PORT Jervis, N. Y., Dec. 14.—A gang of white caps visited the home of Charles Berry at Acitalla, a small settlement near Long Eddy, Sullivan county. They dragged him out in the snow and tarred and feathered him.

The men then reentered the house and applied similar treatment to Mrs. Berry while she lay in bed. A recent death in the family under mysterious circumstances and the indifference of the Berrys led to the outrage.
